(ZYGOPETALUM MACKAYI X ZYGOPETALUM BRACHYPETALUM) X SELF - Very fragrant and has long lasting flowers of unusual loveliness! Plants of this cross, referred to as "false hybrids"* produce egg-shaped pseudobulbs 2 - 3 inches high, narrow green leaves 12 - 24 inches high, and flower scapes of 18 - 36 inches in height, arising from the base of the pseudobulbs at one side, and containing from 6 - 15 flowers of a three inch spread. The sepals and petals are lettuce green, heavily blotched with maroon; the lip is broad, white, and heavily veined with royal purple. Both parent plants are species native to Brazil, and flower in late fall to winter. They may be grown with Cattleyas or Cymbidiums.

* False hybrids: Offspring seemingly identical with the seed parent plant.
